

SELECTED ARTWORKS BY TELLY TU'U

VIEWING BY APPOINTMENT ONLY

My work is an exploration of abstract painting's vocabulary. I use painterly gestures or forms and set them up in an ephemeral or poetic space. The surface becomes this space for the contingencies for the protagonist and antagonists. It's where I can paint on marks just as much as I can take them off and create something that doesn't exist anywhere, hopefully engaging for whoever stands in front of its surface.

This notion of mixing language and abstract visual language is what I have always known. My ethnicity is a combination of Samoan, Chinese, Tokelau and Tuvalu. Visually the marks in Tapa and traditional tattoo are all fragments abstracted from someplace else. That process is where I'm from. Just as the language of abstract painting's history is a part of my painting arsenal.
